BUSIEST DAY IN SENTENCE COURT

Thirteen Prisoners Face Court for Sentence. Pittenturf Sentence Deferred until December 4 owing to Uncertainty.

Sentence court drew a crowd of several hundred people on Saturday afternoon, all the available seating space being used while many stood in the aisles. The principal matter of interest, the case of James Pittenturf, was taken up last and after conference between the Court, District Attorney Neely and D. P. McPherson, Esq., Pittenturf's counsel, it was decided to defer pronouncing his sentence until December 4, the term given at that time dating from Saturday, November 18.

Under the Act of 1909 there could be no alternative but a sentence of thirty years for Pittenturf as he had been sentenced twice before to terms of not less than a year in a Pennsylvania penitentiary and the law provides that the third sentence shall be for thirty years. The last legislature, however, enacted a new law regarding the sentencing of prisoners which is not explicit on this matter and there was some uncertainty Saturday as to whether or not the provisions of the old law regarding the third sentence remained in effect. It was stated that no court had yet ruled on the matter and the additional time was given to investigate the matter more fully.

George Hudson, of Lineboro, was given another month in jail. Hudson, it will be recalled, got a dollar each for dinner from H. B. Bender and Dr. Musselman, claiming that he had left his money at home and that his wife would be in later to make a purchase or have some work done. He gave liquor as an excuse for the act, claimed he was an honest, well reputed carpenter and so on. When Judge Swope asked "Do you mean to say you never played this game before?" Hudson followed with "Oh—well—now" and sentence was imposed.

Reily Miller, of Union township, pleaded guilty to assault and battery on Harry J. Wentz. It was brought out that Wentz would not keep his chickens at home and that Miller finally got some on his own premises and sent for Wentz to identify them. Wentz came, after some delay, and called Miller a number of names until the latter struck the man. Wentz had him arrested. The Court placed the defendant on parole for a year, ordering him to pay the costs. There was general sympathy for Miller though it was clearly brought out by the Court that no words justify an assault.

Peter Boll caused lots of amusement for the audience. He is an old soldier and was found guilty of assaulting Officer Stroup. The Court evidently did not wish to return him to jail and offered him his freedom on a year's parole provided he would pay the costs. This Boll refused flatly to do saying "When I was arrested, I could have got off by paying $5.00 but they made a court trial out of it. Now let the county pay the costs." The Court offered to take his own note for the costs to be paid at the rate of fifty cents a month. Boll wanted to know how much they amounted to and, when told $15.00 or $20.00, decided he would rather go back to jail.

William Deardorf, found guilty during the week of assault and battery on his wife and recommended to the mercy of the Court, was sent to jail for a month. The Court directing him to write to his wife asking her to see him in jail with the idea of effecting a reconciliation. "If," said the Court "she fails to answer this you will be released immediately."

Harry Metz pleaded guilty to stealing some cigars and peanuts at a picnic conducted by Roy Pittenturf and also to assault upon Pittenturf. He was before the Court several years ago charged with taking some shoes. He claimed drunkenness as an excuse. A jail sentence of six months was imposed.

Joseph Branon, from above Orrtanna, was sentenced to a term of eight months in the county jail. He had pleaded guilty to the larceny of a chicken and carrying concealed weapons. Branon served a term of about one year in the Huntingdon Reformatory several years ago having been sent there from York county.

William Matthews, of Hunterstown, was placed on parole for one year. Matthews, while under the influence of liquor, took a coat from the store of Funkhouser and Sachs. He was also directed to pay the costs of the suit.

SPONSORER WILL LIKELY RECOVER

No Unfavorable Developments and his Complete Recovery is now Expected. Hamm still Fails to Furnish Bail.

This afternoon the condition of Charles Sponseller, of Hanover, shot while driving on the road between McSherrystown and Littlestown at an early hour on Friday morning, is reported as most encouraging and his complete recovery is now confidently expected by his friends.

Dr. Jordy, of Hanover, is attending him and he anticipates no serious consequences. The patient is cheerful and talks to his callers, expecting to be about before many days. It is not thought that the bullet struck any internal organ where trouble might result later on and the only possible chance for unfavorable developments would be in blood poisoning which is considered very improbable.

Albert Hamm, charged with the crime, is still in the Adams County jail having failed to furnish bail. A case against Hamm, charging cruelty to animals brought by Dr. Russell, was not pressed in Adams County Court last week. Hamm is married to a daughter of John Culp, of McSherrystown. His father died several years ago and his mother is now living in Hanover.

COUNTY W. C. T. U. MEETING

Quite a good representation from the County W. C. T. U. organizations assembled at the Pitzer House on Friday afternoon, Nov. 17, to hear Miss Mae Gardner's report of the state convention held at Warren.

The report was brimful of interesting ideas. Warren was described as a city of 12,000 inhabitants, a place of wealth and noted for beauty of situation. The people are very hospitable and gave the large number of delegates and friends of temperance a royal welcome. Captain Hobson, Governor Glenn, of North Carolina, and other noted speakers were present. Striking demonstrations of the progress or non-progress of temperance in the various counties were made, and encouraging reports given of the forward movement of the work throughout the state.

Miss Gardner spoke in a very touching manner of the tread of little feet of one thousand children who came marching in, singing with all the earnest enthusiasm they could command "Saloons must go! Saloons, saloons must go!"

The convention was exceptionally good and Miss Gardner brought much to the fore and encourage.

All present were delighted and expressed their appreciation of Miss Gardner's faithfulness and ability to serve as delegate.

The next state convention will be held at Lancaster.

HAD HAND CUT OFF

Paris Billet, of Harrisburg, a passenger conductor on the Philadelphia and Reading railway, had his left hand cut off by his own train Friday evening just after it had pulled into the city. He was taken to Harrisburg hospital, where amputation was made.

Mr. Billet was taking the lights off the rear of the train when he slipped off the platform and fell. In an effort to break the fall he grabbed hold of one of the rails and the wheels of the coach passed over his hand.

His wife, who was formerly Miss Nellie Hoffman, of Gettysburg, was at the train to meet him and witnessed the accident.

LITTLESTOWN HOTEL DEAL OFF

The deal made several weeks ago between George W. Brumgard and Charles W. Huff, says the Littlestown Independent, whereby Mr. Huff was again to assume the proprietorship of the Hotel Huff, has been annulled. Mr. Brumgard will continue as proprietor of the hotel and Mr. Huff, who has rented his house and store room to William Dixon, will move into the George F. Krug property on South Queen street, formerly the residence of Hon. C. H. Dutera.

of thirteen, the largest number at one court for several years.

J. F. Keener, 66 years old, of Washington, had pleaded guilty to receiving stolen goods—a horse—and was up for sentence but it was deferred until December 4, in the hope that Keener could get some testimonials regarding his character. The Court was about to impose a penitentiary sentence of not less than two years and six months or more than ten years when this was determined upon.

In the case of Amos F. Bosserman vs. Charles G. Menges, the jury returned a verdict awarding the plaintiff $1.00 damages.

ANNUAL TEACHERS INSTITUTE OPENS

Large Attendance at Opening Sessions of the Adams County Teachers' Institute in Brua Chapel.

With almost all of the two hundred and fifteen public school teachers in Adams County present, the sessions of the annual institute opened this afternoon in Brua Chapel. The program of the day and evening sessions is most attractive and promises an interesting, entertaining and instructive week for the teachers and the others who are interested sufficiently to attend the sessions.

The instructors for the week are Dr. S. A. Martin, principal of the Cumberland Valley State Normal School at Shippensburg; Dr. C. C. Ellis, of Huntingdon; Prof. O. L. Warren, of Elmira, New York; and Prof. Charles F. Sanders, of Gettysburg. Prof. Robert J. McDowell, of Pittsburgh, has charge of the singing and the Gettysburg College orchestra has been engaged for some of the evening sessions.

The evening attractions are Monday, Tyrolean Alpine Singers and Yodlers; Tuesday, Governor Robert B. Glenn, of North Carolina; Wednesday, the Commonwealth Male Quartet; Thursday, the Fellows Singers.

Opening exercises were held in the chapel at half past one this afternoon with devotional services conducted by the Rev. F. E. Taylor of the Presbyterian church. The address of welcome was made by Dr. P. M. Bickle, representing Gettysburg College. Ira C. Mummert, of Abbotstown, made the response. The first address by an instructor was on "Pedagogical Sign Boards" by Prof. Warren and the second on "The Business of the Institute" by Dr. Ellis.

ADDRESS OF WELCOME

After expressing regret at the absence of President Granville, whom Superintendent Roth had invited to deliver the address of welcome, Dr. Bickle, the dean of the college, acted as substitute.

Referring to the fact that the ancient Romans had graded schools, with a special name for the teacher of each grade and one common name, for them all, he spoke with special approval of this common name. Magister, as showing the main function of the teacher to be a leader and comrade of his pupils, all of them studying together, rather than as preceptor who treats them as empty receptacles in which to store the treasures he had to impart. True, he was a leader with authority, and with the natural Roman idea he freely used the rod as a magic stimulus to study and for curbing the refractory, but the comradship of work was implied throughout.

As a college man the speaker gave a cordial welcome to the teachers, stating that he fully realized how dependent the college is on the good work done in the public schools. A variety of courses is offered by our colleges but for each course there is required what is considered an equivalent grade of preparation, and for this preparation the college must look in large measure to the public school teacher. His work is at the beginning and all know the importance of beginnings and foundations. And if there should be a close comradeship between teacher and pupil much more should this comradeship be close between teacher and teacher, no matter in what grade either may be.

Cheerfully therefore, the speaker said, are the doors of Brua Chapel thrown wide open for the teachers of Adams County in their annual institute. It would be a pleasure to welcome a convention of physicians or lawyers or financiers or civil engineers, for all such are set for the welfare and progress of human conditions, and yet back of all such men is the public school teacher. Hence the welcome to any body of such useful men and women deserves to be specially sincere and cordial.

PROPHETS SEE COLD WEATHER

Thick Corn Husks, Large Crops of Nuts, Heavy Coats on Various Animals Tell of Cold Months, Say Local Weather Sages.

Local weather prophets predict a long and cold winter this year. They base their prognostications upon signs which they say never fail and which have, for many years past, been the "tell-tales" of weather conditions.

The "corn husk" prophet is very busy. He has been out in the fields and examined the thickness of the corn shock. He has found that it is heavier this fall than it has been for years past. In the rural regions this is looked upon as an infallible indication of the coming of a very cold winter. They assert, these farmers, that nature is trying to prepare the grain so that the winds and sleet storms may not destroy it before spring comes again.

Even the apples have a thicker peel than usual this year, according to the rural prophets who have a reputation of being "weatherwise." The Red Jonathans, ordinarily thin skinned, are wearing a thick coat for their protection this winter. The Russets and the Roman Beauties, winter apples of the more rugged type, are also better protected this year than usual. Nature, according to the prophets, is trying to protect the fruits and grains against the ravages of a harsh winter.

Persons who have been out nutting say the hickory trees had plenty of nuts, apparently of a larger size than usual. When the green nuts were split open they were found to be of the usual size, but the hulls were of tremendous thickness. Nature was busy again trying to protect the life germ in the nuts from the stings of frost and the chills of a long cold spell.

All the nuts that grow in the North are showing the same peculiarities. The goosebone prophet looks upon this as backing up his claims that this is to be a real winter—"one of them old fashioned kind when the snow was three feet deep on level ground and the drifts in the roads were so high and hard that you could drive right over the five rail fences at the side of the highway."

Other prophets are putting their faith in the coming of a cold winter on the fact that all animals on the farm are beginning to show indications that their coats will be extremely heavy this winter. Horses, cattle, sheep and others that dread the cold are growing rougher and heavier coats this early in the season.

FARMERS INSTITUTES TO BEGIN

The state's series of farmers' institutes arranged by the Department of Agriculture for the winter of 1911-1912 began today in three counties of the state and continue until well into February. The state has been divided into five sections and in Lackawanna, Greene and Jefferson counties the institutes started today, commencing later on in Cumberland and Bedford.

In addition to the institute the state has prepared for a series of movable schools which will be held in Lebanon, Lehigh, Schuylkill, Columbia, Lackawanna, Wayne, Cambria, Clarion, Warren, Crawford, Erie and Lawrence counties. They will begin on January 1.

FOOT BALL

The Gettysburg College foot ball team showed great improvement in form on Saturday and defeated Delaware College by a score of 6 to 0. Lawyer taking the ball over after it had been carried close to the goal line on straight foot ball. The score was made near the close of the second quarter. Weather conditions and the state of the field were unfavorable to good foot ball but the game was witnessed by a large crowd. Gettysburg's improvement is taken as a good indication for success at Lancaster on Thanksgiving Day.

The Prep foot ball team lost to Franklin and Marshall Academy at Lancaster by the score of 21 to 0.

REPUBLICANS FOR REFORM CURRENCY

Taft Campaign to Make Monetary Plan an Issue.

WILL GO TO CONGRESS

If Democratic House Rejects It the Issue Will Be Taken Before the Country Next Year.

Washington, Nov. 20.—The Republican party's big appeal in 1912 for the support of the country's business interests will be based on the claim that if it is restored to power it will reform the currency system.

It will reinforce this argument with a reading of the record to show that such an accomplishment is impossible if the Democrats come into power.

The modified Aldrich currency plan will be the one to which the administration will commit itself. This plan will be presented to congress by the report of the monetary commission at the opening of the coming session.

There was prospect of a division until Senator Bailey resigned from the monetary commission. He took the old fashioned state's rights Democratic position that the establishment of such a central bank as is proposed was without the powers of congress.

People familiar with the proceedings inside the commission say that Senator Bailey was inclined to admit that the plan itself would probably be beneficial to the country; but he insisted that on constitutional grounds it was impossible. Therefore he felt compelled to oppose it.

This, it is said, is the real reason back of Mr. Bailey's resignation from the monetary commission. He could not remain there and in good conscience acquiesce in the report; yet he was willing not unnecessarily to interpose his objections to the plan.

At any rate, whatever Mr. Bailey's motives, it is claimed with confidence by the advocates of the commission plan that it will be reported unanimously by the present members.

Then the banking and general business interests propose to put behind it all the energy and influence they can command, in the hope of forcing it to passage the coming session.

The Aldrich plan, as it now stands, provides for a national reserve association of $300,000,000 capital. National and state banks and trust companies may be stockholders in it in proportion to their capital. They are not required to take stock, but the banker advocates of the plan believe practically all of them would be brought to see the merits and advantages of entering and that they would do so.

The plan does not provide directly for the retirement of national bank currency, but it does provide that within a year the reserve association shall take over government bonds tendered to it by national banks.

Assures Banks Against Loss.

As national bank circulation is possible only on the basis of bonds, the banks would give up their circulation privilege as they turned in their bonds, and the reserve association would acquire that privilege. This part of the plan is regarded as important, because, first, it assures the banks against serious loss in their 2 per cent bonds, and, second, it gives the reserve association some business, to guarantee that it will not be operated at a loss. This latter has been one of the large problems.

All the present fabric of banking institutions is to be left intact, and the new association will find its largest initial difficulty in getting business enough to earn a respectable return.

The reserve association will have authority to issue emergency currency, under such restriction as it is believed will effectively prevent inflation on one side, and dangerous, sudden contraction of the circulation in panicky times, on the other.

The National Reserve association is to have fifteen branches, and each of these in turn shall have branches, designated as local reserve associations. The plan is so arranged that the earnings of the National Reserve association may not exceed 5 per cent on its stock. The surplus above this is to go to the government.

Careful effort has been made so to distribute the control of the reserve association that no section or particular interest may ever control and dominate it.

In merest outline, this is the project which will be reported by the monetary commission, and to which it is hoped the senate will give assent. If the Democratic house rejects it, the issue will then be joined before the country, and the leading Republican issue—or one of them—in 1912 will be currency reform, and the slogan, "The Democrats can't. We can."

Coupled with the tariff commission plan for revision slowly and by degrees, with the fullest possible investigation and information, this plan will constitute the party's appeal for support of the substantial interests of the nation.

LA FOLLETTE READY WITH NEW PICTURES

Many Varieties Are Needed in Presidential Boom.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Senator La Follette may or may not be within reach of the presidency, but one thing is certain, he has reached that stage of his candidacy for president where he is compelled to expend a large share of his ready money paying for photographs.

The demand for photographs of the Wisconsin senator is, to use a market term, brisk. It is worse than that; it is heavy, and, along with that, also steady.

The other morning some friends of the senator encountered him going along the street at an early hour, carrying a suit case. He explained he was on his way to his photographer's for session. Whether the suit case contained his lunch or a change of raiment he did not explain.

At the progressive headquarters in Washington they have scores of varieties of photographs of the progressive candidate for president. They are taken in all manner of poses. The demand for them comes from progressive clubs, newspapers, news associations and admiring individuals. Besides, there are the magazines.

WOMEN FIGHT HIGH PRICES

Chicago Company Will Open Big "Discount Store."

Chicago, Nov. 20.—The cost of living is to be reduced from 15 to 25 per cent. Avaricious middlemen are to be "fished" by the Woman's Mercantile company, which has been incorporated with $200,000 capital.

Those backing the enterprise are Mrs. Frances Shaw, Mrs. Josephine Hoffman, Mrs. Lena Coleman, Mrs. Mary I. Engler, Countess de Langlade, Mrs. Gertrude M. Seehausen and Miss Mary E. Miller, the woman lawyer. They hope to band together 500,000 housewives.

A discount store with 30,000 square feet, full of bargains, will be opened downtown. Only women, 500 of them, will be employed.

Chauffeur Robbed; Kills Highwayman.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—John Cullinan, nineteen years old, was killed by William Barton, a taxicab driver. According to the police, Cullinan and a companion, John Mahoney, after riding in Barton's machine, robbed him at a pistol's point of $3. They then ordered him to drive on, but Barton drew a revolver. Cullinan fired, but missed, and was shot dead by the chauffeur.

BEHEADS SON, CUTS OWN THROAT

Think Reading Man Became Suddenly Insane.

WIFE ESCAPES BY RUNNING

Awakes to Find Husband Had Severed Lad's Head and Ran From House in Her Flight.

Reading, Pa., Nov. 20.—Charles H. Melcher, aged thirty-six years, a well known boss machinist, while temporarily insane, practically severed the head of his ten-year-old son, Lewis, attempted to kill his wife and then ended his own life by cutting his throat.

Because of the many robberies in the city recently, the mother slept in a rear room with her son, while her husband occupied a front room. Mrs. Melcher was awakened by her husband, who was standing at the foot end of the bed crying: "Oh, God, have mercy on my soul." In his hand he held a razor.

Glancing at her son, Mrs. Melcher saw him in a pool of blood with his throat cut. Melcher started for his wife, who jumped out of bed, grabbed her son and ran downstairs with him, placing the lifeless form on the floor of the hallway.

Attired in her night dress and barefooted, she ran to the home of her parents, seven blocks away. Neighbors, hearing the shrieks at the Melcher home, sent for the police. When the officers arrived they found the son lying in the hallway with his head severed from his body.

Melcher was found in the bathroom with his throat cut from ear to ear. He was still living and he was rushed to a hospital, but died before the institution was reached.

The wife is almost frantic with grief. Melcher, who came from a good family, took his boy down town Saturday night and bought him a hat and other articles. When he retired he was in the best of spirits, although recently he had complained of violent pains in his head.

Melcher was very fond of his family and scarcely ever went away from the house without taking his family with him. He was strictly temperate and held a lucrative position as boss machinist of a knitting mill employing thousands of hands. He was an inventive genius and had patented many improvements for knitting machinery.

In a statement Mrs. Melcher said her husband had been complaining of great pains in his head for a week or more, but that there were no signs of insanity. The supposition is that he suddenly became violently insane.

Melcher's young son was a handsome-looking boy, bright for his age, and was a great favorite in the neighborhood.

HAS A POLITICAL "HEX"

Man Who "Switched" at Last Election Is in Wrong.

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 20.—The most remarkable complaint ever made to the Harrisburg police department was entered by George Holmes, a resident of the Seventh ward, who asked that the officers take steps to rid him of a "hex" of political character that has plagued him since election day.

Holmes is a Republican and is engaged as a contractor. Since Nov. 7 three of his best horses have died. He asked that the police look into the matter, saying that he had "switched" at the last election and something was wrong with him.

WILL BAR REPORTERS

Newspaper Men Won't Be Admitted When Beattie Is Executed.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 20.—Superintendent Wood, of the state penitentiary, announced that reporters would not be admitted to the death chamber on Friday, when Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., is electrocuted for the murder of his wife.

Under a state law Virginia newspapers are not permitted to publish details of an electrocution. Reference to the Beattie murder was made by several ministers in their sermons yesterday.

KNIFE MAKES BOY NORMAL

Incorrigible Lad is Recovering
From Operation.

HAD LESION ON BRAIN

Lad, Whose Nature Was Changed by an Accident, Again Becomes Studious and Obedient.

Yonkers, N. Y., Nov. 20.—Fourteen-year-old Frederick Morris, of 107 New Main street, who has been an incorrigible for two years, is in St. John's hospital, recovering from an operation that promises to make a normal boy of him.

Before he fell from a fire escape and injured his head, he was a studious, obedient and lovable child. After he had apparently recovered he became refractory at home and school and developed thievish tendencies that brought him into court and resulted in his being placed on probation.

"Frederick came to have a sneakish look," said his mother, Mrs. Thomas Morris. "He was queer about the house, he would not eat at the table, but would grab things furtively and eat by himself. He used to save up his pennies to surprise me with little gifts, but he changed entirely and became morose and unloving. He would say he was sorry for a misdeed, and do it right over again. If other children at play touched his head or he rode on a car, he became ill and unmanageable. Two weeks ago Dr. Robert H. Shanahan, our physician, took him to the hospital, and the X-ray revealed a lesion on the brain. An operation was performed by Dr. Shanahan to remove the pressure, and his condition has improved so much that he will be home very soon. The sneakish look is gone and he is bright and cheerful. He inquired how his father and I were and his brothers and sisters. He asks for books and reads eagerly. His writing, which had become almost unintelligible, is clear again. He could not say any of the catechism which he learned, but now he repeats it readily."

Dr. Shanahan said that there was every indication that the operation had restored the boy to his normal condition again.

REYES ARRESTED IN TEXAS

Mexican General is Charged With Fomenting Revolution.

San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 20.—General Bernardo Reyes, head of the Reyesista party in Mexico, which has for its object, it is alleged, a revolution to overthrow the Madero government and place Reyes in the president's chair, is under arrest here, charged with violating the neutrality laws.

The arrest was made at the general's home. He was taken in custody by United States Marshal Nolte and Deputy Marshal Dibrell.

The general, protesting, was taken before Federal Commissioner Edwards and formally charged with breaking the neutrality laws by inciting an insurrection against a friendly power and with planning a military expedition.

He was held in $5000 bail, which was immediately supplied. The general declared that his arrest was "ridiculous and inspired by his enemies, who pursued him maliciously."

Uprising Set For Nov. 24.

Monterey, Mex., Nov. 20.—News of the arrest at San Antonio of General Bernardo Reyes has caused much excitement among his friends and supporters in this part of Mexico. Information in the possession of government agents show that Nov. 24 was the day set for the Reyes revolution.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS

Louis Miller, a prominent Shenandoah, Pa., miner, was horribly burned by an explosion of gas at the Draper colliery.

While walking in a Danville, Pa., street, eleven-year-old Charles Prout suddenly experienced a pain in his leg, having been mysteriously shot by some unknown person.

According to the St. Petersburg papers the Russian demands contained in the ultimatum to Persia include the dismissal of H. Morgan Shuster, the American treasurer general of Persia, and the payment of $1,500,000 to cover the claims of Russian subjects.

President Taft did not begin writing his message as he intended. The bad cold which the president caught on the last day of his western trip has affected his throat, and the White House doctors warned the president not to leave the executive mansion, but to rest, if he intended to keep his speaking engagements before the Good Roads Congress in Richmond, Va.

Gum Trust Indicted.

New Orleans, Nov. 20.—The American Chiclet company, the gum trust, was indicted on ten counts here by a federal grand jury, charged with violation of the interstate commerce laws through false valuation placed on shipments of gum. The company, it is said, obtained lower freight rates than it was entitled to.

Danger In Delay

Kidney Diseases Are Too Dangerous for Gettysburg People to Neglect.

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they get firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health is gradually undermined. Help the kidneys with the reliable and safe remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, which has cured people right here in Gettysburg.

Mrs. N. L. Wiernan, 135 York St., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "I suffered a great deal from backache and I often had nervous spells. When Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention, I procured a supply at the People's Drug Store and commenced their use. The backache was relieved and my entire system was benefited. I gladly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills and advise anyone afflicted with kidney complaint to give them a trial."

ENJOYS EVERY MEAL

Since Taking Vinol—Eating was Punishment Before.

There are hundreds, even thousands of people right around here who have had no appetite for a long time and eat only because they must.

A Brooklyn man, Thos. J. Sinclair, says in a letter "For nearly five years I was tormented with stomach trouble."

"I had no appetite and I suffered so much and so long that it seemed as if I never would get any relief. Vinol proved to be just what I needed. It brought back my appetite, relieved the painful symptoms and now my digestion is perfect. I enjoy every meal now, where formerly eating was almost a punishment."

This delicious cod liver and iron remedy without oil is wonderful to stimulate the appetite and build up the body. All who are weak and run down from stomach trouble or other causes should try Vinol on our positive guaranty to refund the money if they are not perfectly satisfied. Sage Tea Will Darken The Hair

Restore Faded and Gray Hair to Natural Color—Dandruff Quickly Removed.

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great-grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair, with wonderful beneficial effect.

Nowadays we don't have to resort to old-time, tiresome methods of gathering the herbs and making tea. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy containing sage in the proper strength, with addition of sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented. Don't neglect your hair. Get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur hair-dye, and notice the difference after a few days' use. This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. People's Drug Store, Special Agent for Gettysburg.

Monkeys Are Fighters.
"Most persons will guess lions or tigers are the most dangerous animals to train," said an animal trainer, "but they're wrong. Give a lion one good licking and he'll remember it. He hits back only when his man is down or has his back turned, but a monkey will fight against any odds and you never can tell when he'll hit back. Even a medium small monkey can strike a blow that will result through a coat, vest and two shirts, and he leaves a nasty wound. The most daring thing I ever did was to go into a monkey cage and take a baby from its mother. The ordinary house cat is the most stubborn animal under training, but the monkey is the most dangerous if you work the larger kinds."—New York Sun.

BOY STABS ANOTHER TO GET REVENGE

Attacks Former Companion as Result of Grudge.

Philadelphia, Nov. 20.—Ruby Fleishman, a boy of eight years, furiously attacked David Goldschneider, eleven years old, and buried his knife to the hilt in young Goldschneider's back, inflicting a wound that may prove fatal.

The two boys were formerly playmates, but Ruby, who is much smaller than his victim, declares that Goldschneider hit him in a stone fight a year ago. Since that time he admits he has nursed a spirit of revenge and only awaited an opportunity to "get even."

The Goldschneider boy was playing marbles with some other boys in front of a milk store, when his young enemy came along. The sight of Goldschneider, absorbed in his game, was more than Fleishman could resist, and he leaped upon the boy. Clutching Goldschneider's coat sleeve with his left hand, he whipped out his knife with his right hand, and with a vicious thrust sank it four inches in his victim's back, just below the left shoulder blade.

"So, you will knock me in stone fights, hey?" shrieked Ruby as he stood over the prostrate boy. Then, withdrawing the knife, he ran from the scene before the other boys fully realized what had happened.

A patrol was summoned and the wounded boy was rushed to the Pennsylvania hospital, where he is in a serious condition. After stabbing Goldschneider, Fleishman fled, panic-stricken, to his home, where he was found in bed, feigning sleep.

BOY CONFESSES MURDER

Begged Ride, as a Friend, and Then Shot and Robbed Messenger.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 20.—Calmly admitting that he planned and executed the remarkable murder and robbery of Express Messenger Irvan Berger, on the Lackawanna railroad, William P. Bishle, an eighteen-year-old youth, whose home is in Kingston, Pa., was placed under arrest by County Detective M. A. Rafter.

In a remarkable confession, which he made to Detective Rafter, Bishle said:

"I rapped at the door of the car and Messenger Berger opened it and let me in for a ride, and said: 'Sit down and make yourself at home.' I sat down on a milk can in the middle of the car. I was there about two minutes.

"Berger was bending over his desk. Just as soon as the whistle blew and the train went around the curve I got up and shot him right in the back of the head. He dropped on his back. Then I grabbed hold of the packages that I thought had money in them.

"I planned this whole thing to shoot the messenger at this point, as I knew I could get off when the train slacked up around the curve, which is in the yard in Scranton.

"For about a year I helped around the express company's office at Kingston, and I have been employed by the United States Express company at Scranton for the past two weeks, and resigned on Saturday."

MAN ARRESTED FOR SWEETHEART'S THEFT

Held When He Pawned Watch Stolen 15 Years Ago.

Before going he called on one of his girl friends and as he was leaving she presented him with a gold watch and chain. Franklin remained in the west until a few days ago. He came back in hard luck, and to keep from starving decided to pawn his watch.

When he received a ticket and the money he handed over the timepiece. The broker saw the name of a well known man on the inside of the case, and after he had hunted him up learned that the watch was stolen fifteen years ago.

Franklin was arrested and he told his story, naming the girl. The owner of the watch then remembered that this girl was in his employ when the theft occurred. Franklin was released and it was decided not to arrest the girl.

WOULD PENSION FOR CLERKS

Secretary Meyer Will Also Ask For Increased Pay For Them.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Secretary of the Navy Meyer, in his annual report, will advocate increased pay and age retirement for government clerks.

Dealing with the employees in his own department, he will show that while salaries advanced in all private employment, the government salaries have actually decreased, with a result that the navy department is losing many competent employees.

While the naval establishment has increased 114 per cent in twelve years, the clerical force has increased only 38 per cent. The navy department ranks lowest in compensation among the government departments.

The report will show that the schedule for pay for the clerks has actually been revised downward since 1854, and it will declare that if congress is not ready to make a general increase it should at least equalize salaries.

Secretary Meyer declares there is no class of employees more deserving of increased compensation and retirement, with reasonable pay, than the employees of the government, who cannot accumulate much, and aside from all sentimental considerations, civil service retirement by the government would be along the lines of sound business management.
